EDWARD DEXTER

EDWARD DEXTER.

Little can be said in a brief notice of one who so endeared himself to the true sportsmen of America, and particularly those whose favorites are pointers, as Mr. Edward Dexter, remembered by many as "Uncle Ned."

A courteous gentleman always, his delights, until failing strength prevented, was to be in attendance at the trials of the Eastern, Central, Continental and U. S. Clubs, meeting his friends in pleasant rivalry, ever ready to take the true sportsman's delight in congratulating owners of winning dogs, setters or pointers, receiving in a modest way the hearty congratulations of his friends on his own success.

Assisted by Capt. McMurdo, he laid the foundation for a strain of pointers that became famous long before his death, in June, 1901, at the ripe old age of seventy-five years. Hops, Mainspring, King of Kent, Pontiac, etc., were the foundation of his kennel, and from these came Jingo, Selah, Rip Rap, Delhi, India, Nabob, Tippoo, Maid of Kent, Rancee, Mainstay, Tapster, Zig-Zag, Wild Damon and others, mostly winners in his own kennels, followed by others as the principal winners in our trials since, inheriting this blood direct. Mr. Dexter, while patronizing the separate stakes for pointers, always preferred that his entries should be in competition with pointers and setters in stakes open for all, in our foremost trials where competition was best.

He did much towards the final abolishing of the separate stakes for pointers, contending that the pointer was able to prove his merit in the strongest competition. His fame and that of his kennel is world-wide, having no mercenary consideration in the breeding business.

He was a gentleman of the old school, honored and respected by all who came in contact with his fine spirit of manhood and integrity.

In sincere admiration of him, and as a tribute to him, we give him first place in this book as a means of keeping him fresh in the memory of Sportsmen who knew him, as well as those of the hereafter.

JUDGE C. N. POST

JUDGE C. N. POST.

Among the numerous and excellent sportsmen of the Pacific coast there is no one more conspicuous than the subject of this brief sketch. Judge C. N. Post, of Sacramento, California, being prominent both in the history of the Pacific Coast Field Trial Club and in the judicial interests of the state which he honors.

Judge Post organized the Pacific Coast Club in 1883, which held its inaugural trial in December of that year and which has held annual trials every year since, except in 1887, when the date of the trials was changed from December to January following, in which month the trials have since been held, except in one year, when they were run in February.

Judge Post's interest in the club has never flagged; managing to get away from his exacting duties to attend its trials. In the earlier trials he handled a number of his dogs, occasionally one for a friend, and many times won with them, some of them as follows: Sweetheart, second in Derby of '84; Janet dividing third, All-age stake, '85; Tom Pinch, third, All-age, '86; first with Sunlit in Derby and second with Harold in All-age stake, '88; third All-age stake with Sunlit, '89; first and third in Derby with Salina and Stephanie, and first All-age with Sunlit, '90; and third, Derby, with Petronella in '91, since which time he has not handled his dogs so often, but his kennels have met unvarying success. He has always manifested a keen interest in the club which has been benefitted by his able councils.

The records of the club were destroyed by the great fire in San Francisco, April 17, last year, but the publication of them in a previous volume, and now reproduced in this book in full, including the missing 1888 records, are valuable to the officials of the club.

Judge Post, after having ably discharged the duties of Assistant Attorney General for the State of California, has recently been elected as judge of the Superior Court, State of California.

In a recent letter from Judge Post he says: "I would like to see some of our California sportsmen noted in your coming book, we have some mighty good ones in California." A fact which no one doubts, and we regret not being able to comply with his request. A letter similar to the one sent Judge Post being mailed to at least ten of them, but no response was made, which has been attributed to a supposed change of address of many since the disastrous fire.

Very truly yours
Thos Johnson

THOMAS JOHNSON.

With the field-trial matters of the United States and Canada, Thomas Johnson has been one of the most active participants since about 1886. He has owned kennels of setters and pointers constantly and has spared no pains or expense to secure, according to his judgment, the very best blood obtainable. Sport afield with dog and gun, and good competition at field trials, all in a true sportsmanlike manner, are subjects which ever stir his enthusiasm. Largely through his energy and initiative the Manitoba Field Trial Club was organized. It gave its first trials in 1886. Even at that early day of competition, he was prepared and owned dogs which were winners. Since then he has owned and bred numbers of dogs, many of which have displayed field-trial excellence, and their names appear in the records of the winners. Of the number, Champion Alberta Joe, renowned both as a field dog and field-trial contestant, achieved probably the greatest victories, the brilliancy of his work, and the number of his wins, meriting deservedly the high place he holds in the records and in public esteem, securing the warmest spot, also, in the heart of his owner.

Mr. Johnson has many times acted as a field-trial judge both at trials on prairie chickens and on quails. His activities have covered a wide field also. On the Atlantic Coast, the Pacific Coast, and in the great chicken country of the Middle West, he has in the aggregate judged many times, so that his experience has been "from the center all round to the sea."

He also has been conspicuous as a writer, and has published many valuable contributions in the interest of breeding, training, hunting and field-trial competition. His writings are distinguished by a broad, accurate knowledge of his subjects, skilful and fearless presentations of his facts and all adorned by a graceful diction.

To the visiting sportsman he is princely in his hospitality. He seems to be happiest when sharing his pleasures with his friends.

Physically he is a man of magnificent proportions, a true athlete. All forms of wholesome sport win his approval. He, besides his fame as a sportsman, has great renown as a curler, a favorite winter sport on the ice in the North. His curling team has been a successful contestant a number of times at the great yearly curling tournaments.

In the columns of the Manitoba Free Press, in 1906, there was a column treating of the Manitoba sport of "Twenty years ago," and mention was made that Mr. Johnson's Dash B won the Derby in 1886, and his Manitoba Mike won the championship, under the auspices of the same club, in 1906. On this matter being brought to his attention, he remarked: "Yes, it is quite a record; twenty years in the field-trial game and still solvent." Those who know how great are the expenses and how small the receipts of the average contestant at trials, will best appreciate the point of the remark.

In a business way, Mr. Johnson has been with the pioneer firm of Messrs. G. F. and J. Galt, of Winnipeg, Manitoba, since its beginning. He was one of the founders of the Northwest Commercial Travelers Association, and was elected president of the organization in 1885. For a long time he held Certificate No. 1 on its roll. His official energy and influence secured many valuable concessions from the railroads, and the organization was recognized as being of great dignity and importance.

As an entertainer Mr. Johnson has few equals. He has an inexhaustible stock of bright stories, which he tells well, reminiscences of sport, witty sayings, &c., which serve to drive away dull care.

EDMUND H. OSTHAUS

EDMUND H. OSTHAUS.

Wholesome sport, of all forms pertaining to field and stream, appeal favorably to the consideration of the famous artist, Edmund H. Osthaus, of Toledo, Ohio. As an angler he is skilful, and takes much genuine pleasure with rod and reel; but his sport with dog and gun transcend all others. It is to him a constant delight. Of magnificent physique and power, what to others would be feats of hardship and endurance afield, are to him mere incidents of the day's doings.

In their respective habitats, he has, through many seasons, hunted prairie chickens, ruffled grouse, quail, snipe and woodcock, through the great Mississippi Valley, from British America to the Gulf of Mexico, besides hunting in lesser game sections.

His kennel contains both well-bred setters and pointers, and he exacts, as a prerequisite for favorable consideration, that they shall be of special excellence as field performers. These he keeps for his own private shooting and for the friends who are favored with an invitation to join him therein; for he is generous in sharing his pleasures. The most famous of his kennel was Ripsey, a descendant of the great pointer dog, Rip Rap. She was an excellent field performer and also was a winner several times in the Members Stake of the Eastern Field Trial Club, a condition of the competition being that the dogs shall be handled by owners, hence it is strictly an amateur event.

He has been identified with field-trial activities to a conspicuous degree during many years past, and has served in every useful capacity which makes for the best success and dignity of the sport. Whether as judge and critic, officer and club member, councilor and guide, his doings have been distinguished by constant efficiency and good sense. Having a profound knowledge of field and field-trial work, combined with high ideals and moral courage to fearlessly declare his judgments, he is much sought, by field-trial clubs, to act as judge at their competitions. He has so served, ably served, many times, but he much prefers the less exacting role of visitor, which permits of an outing of greater enjoyments.

To the world at large he is best known as a painter of hunting scenes. He most sensibly and beautifully portrays the interesting themes of dog and gun and of fox hunting. His portraits of dogs are marvels of fidelity to truth. He is proficient equally in painting landscapes, cattle, horses, etc., but his specialty is of sport afield. Among his patrons are numbered the most fastidious connoisseurs. Many of his pictures adorn the homes of distinguished patrons in New York, Boston, Philadelphia, Chicago and many other of the world's great cities.

He was born in Hildesheim, Germany, on August 5, 1858. His father was a gentleman farmer. His mother was an English woman of great beauty and personal charm. He had a natural fondness for out-door life and admiration for the beautiful of nature, which manifested itself in early boyhood. His artistic temperament early found expression in attempts to sketch the sheep in the pastures, and the deer and other wild animals which wandered from the neighboring forests. As in nearly all such youthful proclivity to the artistic associations of life, this penchant was disapproved by his father, who desired that his son should study architecture. After much importunity his father gave reluctant consent to a six months' trial of him at the Art Academy in Dusseldorf. He acquitted himself with such pronounced success that his father permitted him to take the entire course. Later his parents journeyed to the United States, where they thereafter made their home. After completing his studies at Dusseldorf, he entered the Atalier of Mr. Christian Kroner, a renowned painter of wild animals and forest scenery. Later he rejoined his parents in the United States. From 1885 to 1893 he was engaged as chief instructor in the Toledo Academy of Fine Arts, an institution established by D. R. Locke, better known as the humorist, "Petroleum V. Nasby." Since then he has painted successfully as a free lance.

HARRY S. ROLSTON
VICTORIA, BRITISH COLUMBIA

HARRY S. ROLSTON.

Few sportsmen have had the varied experience and extracted the pleasures of so many kindred sports as the subject of this sketch, Harry S. Rolston, Secretary-Treasurer and Manager of the Walworth-Rolston Co., wholesale dealers in farm implements, Vancouver, British Columbia.

He was born September 1, 1870, at Norwich, Ontario, Canada, and when about two years old his parents moved to London, Ont., moving again to Winnipeg, Manitoba in 1881, living there until 1903, with the exception of three or four years, when he went to London, Walkerton and Woodstock, Ont., to high school and college. In 1903 he moved to Vancouver, B. C., where he now resides, having seen much of the rapid advancement of the Pacific Northwest.

Mr. Rolston's first possession in breeds was the Irish setter bitch Floss, when a boy at school at Walkerton, admitting that with their combined knowledge, giving Floss the greater credit, that they succeeded in extracting a great deal of pleasure in hunting, without special preference for either, squirrels, rabbit, fox, grouse, partridge and hawks. In excursions for rabbits, hounds and harriers were principally used, these with a double-barreled shot gun in proud possession of Harry. Accompanied by his brother Charles, who owned a Zulu, they usually captured all the rabbits they could get home with through the deep snow.

Mr. Rolston often refers to the time when he subscribed for the leading American sportsman's paper in 1886, which decided him to attend the first field trial that he could. It was not long afterwards when the opportunity offered by the Manitoba Club was accepted. Meeting there many members of what he terms the "Old Guard," including Dr. Rowe, Thos. Johnson, Major Taylor, Frank Simpson, Dave Rose and Nat. Nesbitt; listening to their discussions, as he has often said, with almost reverence in their detailed talk of certain dogs, grounds, etc., which assured him that it was the sport of all sports. Deciding then that it was the ideal pastime, it has been his pleasure not to let a single year pass since without attending one or more trials, as patron or in an official capacity.

Proceeding at once to possess himself of a Cracker Jack, he bought one dog after another only to find that they were not good enough, but his experience taught him that the fault was not always with the dog, the handler patronized being a good one up to a certain point, eventuating in what he terms a plug shooting dog. Good quality in after years proved this in such as Count Cambria, Val Lit, Maid Cambria and Assiniboine Dodo.

Mr. Rolston, with a number of other amateur sportsmen formed the Manitoba Dog Owners Association, which later developed into the Western Canada Kennel Club, which has since given annual field trials at La Salle, providing a day or two, yearly, real enjoyment for the amateur and visitor. He, however, ran few dogs, as his duties of secretary interfered. This club also gave some very satisfactory bench shows.

The Burrard kennels are owned jointly by Mr. Rolston and his two brothers, owning English setters, Irish water spaniels, Boston terriers and other breeds, some of them, Manitoba Mona, Assiniboine Bodega, Moosomin Pat, Assiniboine Cricket, and latterly, Our Chance, Burrard Rowdy Girl, Burrard Bidy Malone, Burrard Pat, Burrard Rock Diver and Burrard Betty Beans, never beaten, although in good competition.

The Burrard kennels have frequently imported dogs and their Irish water spaniels are recognized as the leading dogs in this breed in Western America. In addition to their dogs they are large breeders of pheasants and fancy poultry, rarely failing to win the highest prizes offered. The Vancouver Club and the Burrard kennels have been sadly handicapped in developing their young dogs owing to the fact that there are few available trainers in British Columbia. Assiniboine Rodfield has been the most successful winner in trials of dogs owned by the Burrard kennels.

While living at Winnipeg he judged trials both at Brandon and La Salle, and was frequently asked to judge at other points. Since residing at Vancouver he has frequently been solicited to judge at both field trials and bench shows, but he does not care to accept duties of this kind, preferring the role of competitor.

Besides being the secretary of the Vancouver Field Trial Club, Mr. Rolston is president of the Vancouver Poultry Association, member of the executive of the Vancouver Hunt Club, and connected with many sporting clubs and organizations, and is now devoting considerable spare time and deriving a very great deal of pleasure in training hackney horses.

N. WALLACE.

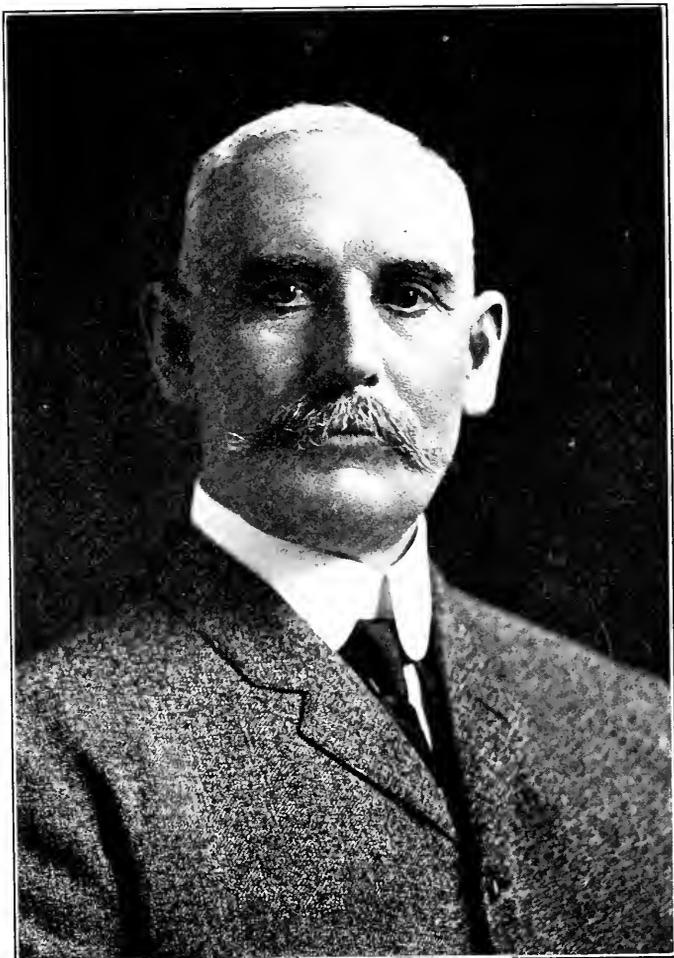

After his debut as field-trial judge at the Central Field Club Trials, held at Lexington, N. C., in 1889, he served quite regularly as field trial judge at the different trials in many successive years. He possesses, in a distinct degree, the impartiality of judgment, industry and skill in management, besides the thorough knowledge of field and field trial work, which are so essential to sound decisions in respect to field trial competition.

In recent years he has judged infrequently as compared to his active judicial services in the 80's and 90's, as he is not in sympathy with the constant bickerings of late years; but field clubs now eagerly avail themselves of his services whenever he will consent to act as judge.

In later years the practical sport with dog and gun, for sport's sake, afield, appeals to him stronger and more pleasantly than does the exacting duties of field trial judge. In the latter capacity he has that desirable quality of judgment, or faculty, of selecting, as winners, dogs which prove their worth in later trials and establish themselves to be consistent class performers. All judges have not that ability.

Mr. Wallace, in pursuit of sport afield, has shot over a vast region of the United States. He is a man of fine physique, large and powerful, a living example of the benefits of an active life with dog and gun. As a companion he is quiet, considerate, courteous and pleasant. He fancies setters, pointers and fox hounds, and looks upon them as faithful servants and good friends, bestowing upon them the kindest treatment, as becomes a true sportsman.

The early spring, summer and fall finds Mr. Wallace a very busy man, but his work is laid aside in the winter season, when he spends his time on his large game preserve in South Carolina, and where, surrounded with his comforts, if one is fortunate enough to have visited him he will never regret or forget it. Surrounded with his faithful dogs, which give him such a variety of sport, quail, snipe and woodcock shooting, and his hounds in pursuit of fox and wildcats, together with fine fishing, every moment of his time is passed pleasantly. Mr. Wallace was born in Avoca, Steuben county, N. Y., June 18, 1851. He has resided at Farmington, Conn., since 1866.

N. WALLACE.

NORVIN TRENT HARRIS

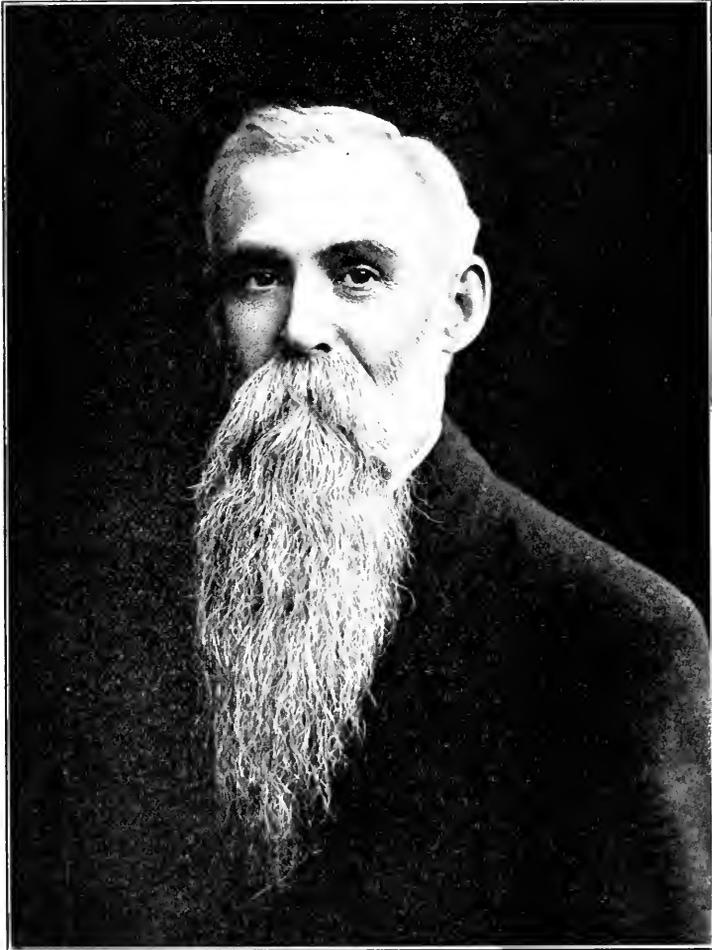

NORVIN TRENT HARRIS.

Few men who are devotees of the sport pertaining to dog and gun are so favored by the wealth of opportunity as that enjoyed by Norvin Trent Harris. His domicile and business interests are within the vast region of the south where game is in greatest abundance. He is a sugar planter on a vast scale in Louisiana, a state specifically renowned in respect to its game supply. He is a member of the firm of Harris & Eustis, cotton factors and general commission merchants, of New Orleans, the city of his nativity. However, he makes his home at "Hurstbourne," Lyndon, Jefferson county, Ky., a vast, world-famous stock farm devoted to breeding of pure-blooded horses. "Hurstbourne" was purchased by his father, the late J. L. Harris, who was a Kentuckian by birth, who was interested extensively in cotton and sugar plantations in Louisiana, and who was also a cotton factor and commission merchant in New Orleans up to the time of his demise in 1888.

As becomes a cultured gentleman, Mr. Harris' hunting activities are after the most refined methods of up-to-date sportsmanship. He is identified with many branches of sport. He is specially devoted to fox hunting, and, in that relation has been an expert cross-country rider since he was fifteen years of age. He has owned many excellent fox hounds, some of which have proved their superiority in the best of competition. Wing shooting and big game hunting, as a matter of good sport, also engage much of his attention. His greatest fame, however, in these matters is associated with field trials. He has been a field trial club member, officially, has acted as judge, and has owned many contesting dogs since the early 80's, amongst which were the renowned field-trial winners Wun Lung, Tony Boy, Cynosure and Hurstbourne Zip.

While the field trial competition of many years was honored with Mr. Harris' entries and attendance, the chief purpose in maintaining his kennel was to indulge his fondness for field shooting. He is also skilful in trap shooting.

Socially, he is a man of rare personal charm. Nature has endowed him with a happy disposition, and to this is added the hospitality and suavity of the true southern gentleman. He is the kind of man one always feels a warm delight to meet; of keen intellect, courteous, energetic and sympathetic; he is also the kind of man who achieves success in business, and does honor to the sport he cherishes. In his lighter moods he is an excellent raconteur, and no party of which he is a member can suffer a dull moment.

W. S. BELL

W. S. BELL.

No man in the city of Pittsburgh stands higher in the estimation of his fellow-citizens as a sportsman, counsellor in the city's varied interests and in business integrity than the subject of this sketch, Mr. W. S. Bell.

He was born at his present place of residence in the city's suburbs September 18, 1852, and early in life developed a fondness for outdoor sports, indulging every opportunity as a youth, inheriting this desire from his father, who was an enthusiastic devotee of both rod and gun.

From 1877 to 1882 he was connected with J. Palmer O'Neil & Co., gun dealers, and with the now well known Mr. S. A. Tucker, was the first of the experts to attend shooting tournaments, Mr. Bell shooting a hammerless gun, and if not the pioneer in use of the hammerless was certainly among the very first who saw the future of it and used it. He was also an ardent advocate of small bores, using a twenty bore in the early 80's, when guns of such small bore were ridiculed as a toy, but he has steadfastly adhered to it ever since, recently importing a pair of single trigger, twenty bore guns, made by the celebrated maker, William Cashmore, upon which are handsomely engraved some of his dogs, from photographs taken in the field, on his extensive and splendid reservation in Tennessee, where he maintains a superb kennel of dogs used entirely for his own sport, which he indulges moderately, as his keen conception and enjoyment of nature are more to him than a well filled bag. Although one of the best shots afield he does not desire to kill for numbers, and limits himself to twenty shells a day, frequently bringing to bag twenty birds.

Mr. Bell being an expert with the camera spends much time while out shooting in making photographs of his dogs, and possesses a collection very rare and interesting from which he derives much enjoyment. Marse Chans, winner of first in the Monongahela Club trials, is among the thirty setters and pointers owned by him, among which are many other excellent performers kept for his private shooting and that of friends only.

As a judge at field trials Mr. Bell is perhaps best known. He was first asked to officiate in 1880, and later has been sought by many clubs, acting in capacity of judge in almost every state east of the Mississippi river in which trials have been held, also in Manitoba and on the Pacific coast, rounding out an experience and efficient service equal to that of any of our well known judges. His executive ability is surpassed by none, equalled by few. Being skilled in woodcraft and well versed in the habits and haunts of game, with a keen perception of class in dogs, a good memory for analyzing their work and skilfully directing a trial, caused his service to be sought everywhere. Recently he has declined many invitations because of the petty bickerings, preferring the enjoyment of an outing on his preserves to the exacting duties of a judge, where he stands among the foremost. He has also acted as a judge at bench shows with great credit, having been honored with invitations at some of our best ones, including such as the Westminster, etc., but he can rarely be induced to serve. He formed the Monongahela Field Trial Club, and successfully demonstrated that trials could be held in the middle north, always advancing some new feature, among which was the furnishing of wagons for transporting the dogs to the trial grounds, and the feeding of them and giving medals to commemorate their winnings. In 1895 he advocated a bag limit to be placed on the state's statutes, and has urged before the last two sessions of the legislature a gun license.

Mr. Bell has been an active Mason since 1880 and has been honored and entrusted with the most exalted positions, serving in the meantime as chairman of many important committees, notably the committee on decorations in 1898, when the great triennial event was held in Pittsburgh, also serving on the executive, as well as the finance, committees at the same time. For many years he was chairman of the committee of arrangements when his Masonic order visited the cities of Philadelphia and Harrisburg, Pa., Louisville, Ky., San Francisco, etc. As a Mason he was honored as Worshipful Master in 1886, as High Priest in 1900, Eminent Commander in 1904, Sovereign Prince in 1905, rounding out an active, full and influential career.

At his suburban home he has served as school director, councilman, auditor, bank director, etc., and in the community, endeared and respected by all.

“MAGICIAN”

“Is a handsome black and tan hound, great in symmetry, perfect in legs and feet, of highest type and modeling in head, almost as near perfection as a breeder can reach; in fact, the best Bloodhound in America.”
 FREDERICK FREEMAN LLOYD.

“The Bloodhound possesses in a most marked degree every point and characteristic of those dogs which hunt together by scent.”

The points of the Bloodhound are numerically as follows; as adopted by the Bloodhound Club of America:

	Value
Head, including Wrinkle	20
Ears and Eyes	10
Flews	5
Neck	5
Shoulders and Chest	10
Back and Back Ribs	10
Legs and Feet	15
Color and Coat	10
Stern	5
Symmetry	10

I have Bloodhounds that the English and American Kennel Club recognizes; that all experts acknowledge to be the best in Europe and America.

Master of the Imperial Bloodhound Kennels.

DR. KNOX,
 DANBURY, CONN.

FACTS THAT BLOODHOUND PURCHASERS SHOULD KNOW.

All Bloodhound breeders in Europe or America register their hounds with the English or American Kennel Club. A hound must have certain characteristics to be a Bloodhound; without those characteristics no hound is or can be a Bloodhound. The names English, American, Cuban, Siberian, etc., exist only as words or phrases, to deceive the public, or to swindle a purchaser. Never buy without obtaining a certified pedigree, registration receipt and number of the hound from one or both clubs, as nine out of ten buyers would not know a Bloodhound when they saw one. Those who want the genuine Bloodhound should be cautious in buying from any person other than exhibitors, as they OWN, BREED, BUY and can SELL the most perfect specimens. Many dealers buy the inferior, degenerated, worthless and cheap CULLS, breeding from them, they offer the "WEEDS" thus produced as hounds equal to those which have cost thousands of dollars to develop. Every Bloodhound BREEDER that has hounds of TYPE, CHARACTER and QUALITY, i. e., "The Bloodhound of Fact," you will always find with his hounds REPRESENTED at all the LARGE SHOWS, courting competition. The others are noted by their absence.

DR. KNOX,
Master of the Imperial Bloodhound Kennels,
Danbury, Conn.

THE BLOODHOUND—MAGICIAN—A CHAMPION.

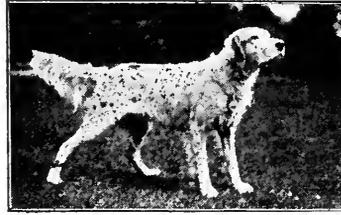

The FIRST and ONLY BLOODHOUND that has ever won the CHAMPIONSHIP MEDAL, offered by the AMERICAN KENNEL CLUB, and the WINNERS' HONOR for the best BLOODHOUND at the New York Show, 1907.

His value as a sire lies in his breeding from KNOWN and HEALTHY Ancestors, with Physical and Mental ability to hunt MAN or BEAST, producing strong and typical youngsters that are also MAN-HUNTERS. Judges, Fanciers and Breeders pronounce him PERFECT in Bloodhound Character, and the best SOUND Bloodhound to be seen in the show-ring to-day. After winning the FIRST and SPECIAL PRIZE in all the Bloodhound classes, the CHALLENGE CUP, a Special for the best hound of any variety went to him at the SIMSBURY HORSE and HOUND SHOW, with thirty entries competing, under FIVE SPECIALTY JUDGES.

At HARTFORD he wins over all Bloodhounds, and was awarded the OFFICERS' CUP for the BEST in the show, with Four Hundred entries.
